Interior design companies attempt to design beautiful houses, but spectacular houses are made when companies strive to go beyond the clients' expectations.

The company is the interior design division of Bangalore-based Prestige Constructions, one of the country's leading real estate companies. Originally set up as a subdivision, it now serves as an independent entity, managing a mix of residential projects, clubhouses, resorts and hotels across the country.

The company's award-winning team of architects, interior designers and project managers specialise in residential and hospitality interiors. It offers consultation, comprehensive planning and design solutions to individuals as well as to other companies.

Morph Design's team constantly encourages inputs from clients. The team carefully studies each client, his lifestyle, needs and budget before drawing a plan that fits him best. Visual tools, such as photographs, floor plans, colour palette, 3-D drawings, etc. are used to help the client visualise the form his space will ultimately take.

To ensure best quality finishing and detailing, the company has established three integrated manufacturing units; the Woodworking unit specialises in furniture, Windowcare produces custom window dressings and the recently-launched Door Factory satisfies the need for superior quality doors.

The company constantly adopts best practices in interior design and works to create a distinct identity for each project it undertakes, ensuring customer delight.

Morph Design Company is responsible for the interiors of all Prestige projects, including the recently completed White Meadows in Bangalore. The residential project encompasses 66 houses and four towers with 214 apartments. The houses have expansive views while the apartments, either duplex units or penthouses, are designed to be 'private villas in the sky'.

The design team has given all the houses and apartments a modern and clean décor. While white, beige and a grey colour palette dominate the interiors, lights and chandeliers add dramatic effect.
